VOLUME XXXVIII. NO. 110

SEYMOUR, INDIANA, FRIDAY, MAY 2, 1919.

PRICE TWO CENTS.

1889 WAS EPOCHAL YEAR IN SEYMOUR

Many Permanent Improvements in This City Date Back Just Thirty Years Ago.

E. & R. RAILROAD WAS BUILT

Water Works System, Opera House and Laupus Building Were Also Constructed in That Year.

If there is any truth in the old saying that a cycle of life is completed every thirty years Seymour is entering upon a new era of advancement and improvement which will mean much for the city. Residents who have spent most of their lives in this city and the vicinity will recall that the year of 1889 was an epochal one in the history of Seymour. At that time Seymour was slightly more than thirty years old, the first cycle of the city's existence dating back a little more than the generally accepted term of years.

It was in 1889 that Seymour began to export manufactured goods. At that time the Bliss Milling Company made its first export shipment of flour to its representatives in Glasgow. Since that time the exports of this company have been large and the mill had representatives in many foreign countries until the World War was declared at which time the food administration ruled that all flour must be sold to the United States government and distributed by its agents.

Local men who are interested in the advancement of the city believe that the city is entering upon a new cycle of business and commercial activity. The last thirty years have been remarkable in many respects and the prospects are exceedingly bright for great improvements during the next few years, marking the beginning of a new cycle.

THIRD OF LIBERTY LOAN QUOTA IS SUBSCRIBED

Reports of Treasury Department Indicate Lagging Interest Throughout Nation.

By United Press

Washington, May 2—Approximately one-third of the Victory loan has been subscribed, treasury department estimated today. Unofficial reports reaching the department indicated $1,500,000,000 has been subscribed. This showing the country is poorer than was made for a similar period in either the third or fourth loans, officials said. The number of individual subscriptions was falling behind the number obtained in the last campaign, according to the treasury officials.

Wm. Weathers went to North Vernon this morning on business.

While these improvements were being made local people began to give attention to the construction of new buildings. Up to that time business was largely centered on Second street together with the stores on Indianapolis avenue. But in 1889 the Laupus building which stands at the corner of Chestnut street and St. Louis Ave. was erected and was one of the first two story buildings of the modern type to go up in that block. Later the K. of P. building was erected but that was several years later. Even at that time Chestnut street was not recognized as a good block but the improvements tended to draw business in that direction.

But the thought of the public was not devoted entirely to railroads, business blocks and water works system. The people began to demand some building that could be utilized to an advantage for theatrical purposes. The old opera house had been popular but it was gone and a number of public spirited citizens agreed to take sufficient stock to build what is known as the Majestic block. The theater at that time was one of the handsomest in southern Indiana and under various managements numerous productions were booked during the winter seasons. For a time the productions were given before packed houses, but the building as a business proposition was never a paying investment. Most of the original stockholders sold their holdings at a big loss and the building was sold to the present owners at much less than its cost.

It was in 1889 that Seymour began to export manufactured goods.

At that time the Bliss Milling Company made its first export shipment of flour to its representatives in Glasgow. Since that time the exports of this company have been large and the mill had representatives in many foreign countries until the World War was declared at which time the food administration ruled that all flour must be sold to the United States government and distributed by its agents.

Local men who are interested in the advancement of the city believe that the city is entering upon a new cycle of business and commercial activity. The last thirty years have been remarkable in many respects and the prospects are exceedingly bright for great improvements during the next few years, marking the beginning of a new cycle.

In those days subsidies were popular, that is where the promoters could secure them, and the old E. & R. railroad was to be built on the subsidized plan. Some citizens were opposed to the gift of any money for the railroad project, but others foresaw the great advantages that would come to this city in the future by having a line direct into the principal coal fields of Indiana. School house meetings were held in various parts of the townships through which the railroad was surveyed and when the vote was taken the subsidy was favored. In a short time the E. & R. became a reality and was later taken over by the Walsh interests which changed the name to the Indiana Southern and made many improvements along the route. Seymour has never regretted that the road, which is now known as the C. T. H. & S. E. was routed to this city and the advantages that will come from it will increase as the city's industrial development campaign progresses.

Then there were other improvements beside the location of a new railroad, which was the third to enter the city. Before 1889 the people of the city secured their water supply from wells and cisterns. The town pumps, located at convenient corners throughout the city, were popular places for congregation. The city was protected with a fire apparatus which consisted of a steam pump which drew water from the large cisterns which were built under the streets. But as the town advanced and improved, the public demanded better water facilities and in 1889 the Seymour Water Works System was constructed. The McMillan interests promoted the proposition, but the company was later purchased by local capital and has been under the supervision of Seymour people since that time. The water works system is much different now from what it was when first constructed. The power station building and the stand pipe still remain, but new mains have been laid and very recently hydraulic power has been substituted in part for the steam plant at Rockford. The construction of the water works system with the installation of fire plugs at various corners was another evidence of the advancement of Seymour from town to a city.

While these improvements were being made local people began to give attention to the construction of new buildings. Up to that time business was largely centered on Second street together with the stores on Indianapolis avenue. But in 1889

PLANS COMPLETED FOR CLEAN-UP WEEK

Supervision of Teams to be Employed Next Week Placed in Charge of The Sanitary Officer.

PUBLIC ASKED TO COOPERATE

Residents Requested to Collect All Trash for Removal During Early Part of Week.

The civic improvement committee of the chamber of commerce and the city administration are co-operating to make the cleanup and paintup week to be observed here May 5-10 a success. The co-operation of the public is essential in order that the desired results be obtained. The week was set aside by the city council at the suggestion of the chamber of commerce committee and considerable interest has been manifested in the campaign which since 1915 has been an annual affair with the exception of last spring.

Five teams will be employed during the week for the purpose of removing the trash and debris that is collected at various places in the city. Gilbert Chasteen, who holds the ash removal contract for the city, will furnish three teams on his regular contract, and the two teams owned by the city will also be employed. The team work will be under the supervision of C. H. Wallace, sanitary inspector, who is working out the details of the campaign. He will probably arrange a schedule for the teams so that repeated trips into the same sections of the city can be avoided. With favorable weather it is the intention of the city administration to complete the hauling before Saturday night.

In order to limit the campaign to one week it is essential, it is pointed out, that the residents of the city co-operate in every way they can. It is suggested that the trash and rubbish to be removed be collected at the first of the week and placed so that it can be easily reached by the teamsters. While they are willing to co-operate to expedite the work, it is pointed out that they cannot be required to carry rubbish any considerable distance to load it. All trash ought to be piled near the alley line or against the outside of the alley fences.

The contractor for ash removing will haul away such materials as fall within his contract, and the two extra city teams will be employed to remove such other materials that are not specified in his agreement. Grass, leaves and such trash that will burn should not be placed in the piles of rubbish that are to be hauled away, it is explained, as this would result in too much work and the campaign could not be completed within the week's time.

Scores of citizens take advantage of the offer of the city during cleanup week to get rid of the trash which accumulates at every home during the winter months. There is always considerable repair work to do around the home and this is the acceptable time to look after it. Paint and whitewash can be used to an advantage in brightening up old fences and sheds and the appearance of the property is greatly improved by a small amount of work and at minimum expense.

WORK HOUSE SENTENCES IMPOSED ON FIFTY-FIVE

Total of 134 Arrests Made at Cleveland In Connection With May Day Parade.

By United Press

Cleveland, O., May 2—Municipal court judges today imposed work house sentences on fifty-five out of 134 persons arrested in connection with the May Day riots in which one man was killed and more than 200 injured. Seven charged with carrying concealed weapons, shooting and other offenses had been ordered held for investigation by the grand jury. The district attorney announced the case of every man arrested would be investigated and he would ask Washington to deport all foreign born men not citizens who had taken part in the riots.

Driftwood township with a quota of $36,000 reported late this afternoon that the total subscriptions aggregated $42,500. This is an increase of $3,650 since the last report.

MANY SOLDIERS ENROLL FOR TRIP

Large Delegation of Discharged War Veterans Will Attend Indianapolis Celebration.

URGED TO WEAR UNIFORMS

Every Jackson County Man Going Will be Expected to Take Part in Parade.

The enrollment of Jackson county soldiers who will take advantage of the free trip to Indianapolis on May 7 to attend the "Welcome Home" celebration is growing larger each day and it is now estimated that the county will have about three hundred discharged men there. G. W. Huber who is in charge of the enrollment in Jackson township stated today that almost fifty local men had enrolled to be the guests of Jackson county on that day.

There seems to be some question among soldiers and sailors in the county as to whether or not it will be absolutely compulsory to wear a uniform.

John E. Hunsucker, chairman of the county council of defense, who is in charge of the arrangements for the entertainment of the Jackson county boys, stated yesterday that in cases where it was impossible for ex-soldiers to appear in uniforms the men would be supplied with badges to show that they had been in the service. However, Mr. Hunsucker is very anxious that every man who possibly can do so wear a uniform as it will make a much better showing in the parade. Every man who goes as the county's guest will be expected to march with the delegation in the parade. It is pointed out that some of the soldiers in the county have disposed of their uniforms, some having returned them after being discharged. It is the desire of Mr. Hunsucker that every man who has seen service go and the men who have no uniforms will be provided with a badge and will be entitled to partake in all the festivities planned in honor of the returned war veterans.

A special train will leave this city at 8 o'clock Wednesday morning over the Pennsylvania railroad to take the Jackson county soldiers to Indianapolis. Enough coaches will be carried on the train to accommodate a large number of citizens who will likely attend the celebration as many local people have expressed their desire to go and it is believed that many from over the county will. A ticket will be purchased for each soldier from the county boarding the train.

G. W. Huber, who has charge of the enrollment in Seymour, is anxious that soldiers desiring to go to the Indianapolis celebration let him know as soon as possible. It is expected that a large number of men will enroll to take the trip before the first of next week.

TWO RURAL ROUTES IN COUNTY ARE DISCONTINUED

Practically All Carriers Have Had Their Territory Increased—Will Receive More Pay.

Practically every rural mail carrier in Jackson county has had the length of his route increased and two routes have been abandoned by a new postoffice order which became effective Thursday. The routes that have been discontinued are No. 4 out of the Brownstown postoffice, Frank Browning, carrier, and the Henderson route at Sparksville.

With the exception of one all of the routes out of the Seymour postoffice have been increased in length from three and a half to four miles and the districts have been changed to a certain extent. There has been little confusion in the change so far as local mail carriers are concerned and they have all been able to cover their new territory with its increased mileage in about the usual time that they went over them before the change became effective.

The increase in the length of the routes from the Seymour postoffice is due to the fact that three of the routes are serving patrons who formerly received their mail on Route 4 out of Brownstown which was discontinued. Route No. 5 has taken six miles of the territory, and Nos. 3 and 7 about three miles each.

Allen Swope, local postmaster stated today that by the change the service to all patrons in general would prove more satisfactory. In laying out the new routes every care was taken to make changes that would benefit the largest majority of patrons. Postmaster Swope stated that with the exception of a few, every rural patron of the Seymour post office will be better taken care of even before.

The increasing of their routes will not give the local mail carriers cause for complaint considering the fact that their pay has also been increased. Before the routes were made longer the average pay was $1,440 which is now increased to $1,560 per year.

NEW CLEWS IN BOMB PLOT ARE INVESTIGATED

High Explosives Found by Federal Agents in Baldwin Medical Institute.

By United Press

New York, May 2—Federal and city authorities were working on three new clews in the nation wide bomb plot today. These are: first, internal revenue officers raiding the Baldwin medical institute found two packages containing twelve bottles of high explosives. Second, the paper in which the bombs were wrapped was identified by a firm as having been manufactured by that concern. Third, a finger print was found on the glass container sent to Mayor Hyland of New York.

The packages of explosives found in the Baldwin medical institute were said to have been left there by a chemist who some is said to live in Philadelphia.

There will be no oral discussion between all concerned. During the fifteen days allotted to the Germans, the representatives may present propositions to the allies in writing. Replies will be made in the same way.

If the Germans present a proposal during the last few days of the period, the allies will have the right to exceed the fifteen days in getting the reply. The Germans must complete the discussion among themselves as well as at Wiemar and present all proposals within the time limit.

Under the present arrangement, there will be just two meetings at Versailles, at which presentation of the treaty and its signing will take place. The remainder of the procedure will be limited to exchange of written communications between Versailles and Paris.

LAWLESSNESS IN U. S.

The American public is awakening to the realization that anarchists, bolshevists and others who have no respect for the laws of a community must be dealt with more sternly than has been the practice during the last few years. Any government that fails to protect its citizens who live according to the laws which have been enacted for the welfare of the entire nation fails to do its duty to the majority. During the last few years a weakness or at least a neglect to deal sternly with agitators has been manifest. The time has come when anarchists and bolshevists must be treated as anarchists and bolshevists and not as honored citizens.

The bomb plot which fortunately was uncovered in the New York city postoffice in time to prevent loss of life, and the Cleveland May day demonstration are illustrations of the outbursts of the lawless element which cares nothing for humanity or for the country in which they live. Many of these agitators are foreigners who do not think enough of the United States to become naturalized, yet they are permitted to destroy the peace and tranquility of certain sections of the country and endanger the life and liberty of the loyal citizens who are protecting the nation.

The United States has always dealt with a remarkable degree of leniency with these foreign anarchists and agitators. But the time is approaching when our government must decide if the present plan of action is a safe one. The United States is founded upon liberal political views but there are bounds which cannot be exceeded. When the safety of the public and the future of the nation itself is endangered it is surely time to take the disturbing element in hand.

Those democrats who insisted that the objection against the original draft of the constitution for the league of nations was made for partisan reasons, are overlooking that many of the suggestions that were made by the critics have been embodied in the final draft.

Some time ago it was stated that the penny had become almost a useless coin, but with the new excise taxes in force the public is happy that the little coin is still in existence.

Shortage of Food Grains.

By United Press

Duluth, Minn., May 2—Julius Barnes, director of the United States grain corporation, today said the world faces a shortage of 300,000,000 bushels of food grains. Barnes contributed the shortage to the failure of Russia, Roumania, and India to export grain, placing the burden of exporting grain upon the United States.

Americanization Through Children.

There is a growing apprehension of the evils that menace the future and an apparent desire to avert trouble by means of preventive measures. It is coming to be recognized that by making good Americans of all of the Nation's children, the alien problem of the future will be practically solved.

The easiest way to teach American ideals and loyalty is to begin with the little child; therefore the United States Bureau of Education and the National Kindergarten Association, working together from 8 West 40th Street, New York, are urging the immediate introduction of the kindergarten into all public schools as a vital Americanizing agency.

As a result of their efforts, Texas and California are conducting intensive campaigns, and letters from persons in every state show an increasing interest in securing this educational advantage for the children of their communities.

More than 70 per cent. of the children of our own state are deprived of kindergarten education. We should take steps immediately to remedy this condition, and have kindergarten put into all of our schools this year.

HOW TO GROW

LATE CABBAGE.

Late cabbage is usually grown on land that has been utilized for peas, early potatoes, or early beans during the early part of the season.

The seed should be sown in a seed box or a special bed four to six weeks before the plants are needed for setting. The seed should not be sown too thickly, and it is a good plan to thin the plants to an even stand in the seed bed, so that they will develop uniformly. The land on which late cabbage is grown should be well fertilized, and the plants set eighteen to twenty inches apart in rows three feet apart. Where the work of cultivation is to be done entirely by means of hand tools, the plants may be set eighteen to twenty-four inches apart in each direction.

The number of plants to be set in the home garden will depend upon the requirements of the family. Late cabbage matures about the time of the first heavy autumn frosts, and will withstand considerable cold. The crop usually is stored in pits in the garden, or sometimes in a cool cellar. —United States Department of Agriculture.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL.

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. They are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. His efforts to banish it brought out these little olive-colored tablets.

These pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel, but to let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Most headaches, "dullness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "loggy" and "heavy." Note how they "clear" clouded brain and how they "perk up" the spirits. 10c and 25c a box. All druggists.

WHY $50 NOTE SALE COUNTS FOR SO MUCH.

Our entire national income is es timated conservatively at $60,000,000,000.

Eighty per cent of this national income is distributed among families whose annual incomes are $10,000 or under. If democracy is to be the order, these 80 per cent will carry the responsibility of the loan.

Statistics show that families with $5,000 income or less receive 76 per cent of the national income.

The "little fellow," the wage earner of the industrious middle class, is the backbone and sinew of democratic America, for the families whose annual income is $2,000 or under receive more than two-thirds of the national income.

The $30, $40 and $50 a week man is the main dependence of Uncle Sam.

And—

Says Carter Glass in his message outlining the Victory Liberty Loan:

"Allotment will be made in full on all subscriptions up to and including $10,000."

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Man Made in the Image of God

Genesis 21: 26-28; Ephesians 4: 20-24; Genesis 2: 7-9

GOLDEN TEXT—God created man in his own image.—Gen. 1:27

1. The Creation of Man (Gen. 1:26-28).

1. Time—when the earth, his home, was ready for him. The order in creation shows design on the part of God. He anticipated man's need in storing the coal in the earth, piling up minerals in the rocks, storing electricity everywhere, causing the water to gush from the valleys and hillsides, preparing plants and herbs for the healing of man's injuries and food and raiment adapted to every climatic condition.

2. His nature (vv. 26, 27). He was created in the likeness and image of God. This act was preceded by a special counsel of the Godhead. It was said, "Let us make man." This precludes the foolish and wicked assumption that man ascended from or through the brute. He came into being by a special creative act of God.

This creative act is confirmed by Christ (Matt. 19:4; Mark 10:6). With such testimony we can dismiss the evolution theory as to man's origin as a human vagary. This likeness and image is not physical and bodily, but intellectual. (Eph. 4:24) and moral, (Col. 3:10). Man is spirit, soul and body (1 Thess. 5:23). God's likeness is reflected in man's tripartite nature. As there is a trinity and unity in God, so there is a trinity and unity in man. Spirit is the highest part of man, that which makes it possible for him to know God. The soul is man's self-conscious life, the seat of his emotions and desires. The body is the seat of the senses, the agency by which he knows the world. God made man with a personality capable of having fellowship with himself, with whom he could share his glory.

3. His rank and power (vv. 26, 28). Man, the last in creation, was placed above all else, over all the rest of creation. Being in the likeness and image of God, he was fitted to rule, how far short man comes of living up to the position given him by the Creator! The first man was not a savage, neither a baby. Fresh from the Creator's hands he possessed such lofty powers of intellect as to enable him to name the beasts as they passed before him, (Gen. 2:19, 20).

II. Man Alone in Paradise (Gen. 2:7-9).

Adam had a most beautiful place in which to live. "Pleasant to the eyes, and good for food" describes his surroundings. His environment was in keeping with his nature. Eden was only fit for him in an unfallen state. As soon as his nature was wrecked, out he must go. Paradise with all its splendor could not satisfy man. His heart was desolate. Reciprocal love is the only thing that can satisfy the heart of man. Animals of all varieties surrounded him, but none were adapted to be his companions. To accentuate this need God caused the animals to pass before Adam. He was differentiated from all the animals in that he was a personality. He was endowed with the power of love, therefore only a being who could love in return could satisfy him. To meet this need woman was made for man. They had minds alike; they had spiritual natures alike; therefore they could commune together about the things that surrounded them and about God.

Man was made from the dust of the ground and woman was taken from his side. She is therefore one removed further from the earth than man. The fact that woman was made from man's rib points to unity, similarity and equality. God charged this first pair with the responsibility of replenishing the earth, (Gen. 1:28). Marriage is a divine institution and most sacred; for God made them male and female and performed the first marriage ceremony. In view of this, polygamy and divorce are grossly criminal. Marriage is the fountain-head of all life, religious, social and national, therefore corruption here is most fatal.

Demonstration in Paris.

By United Press.

Paris, May 2—A great crowd ignoring the government order against manifestations gathered and penetrated a cordon of infantry and cavalry. About half the demonstrators were allowed to continue until the cavalry reformed and rushed the remainder. The crowd shouted "Down with Clemenceau, Vive Wilson, Vive Amerique."

WAS INSANE WHEN MURDER WAS COMMITTED

Jury Finds That Oscar Medaris Was Mentally Unbalanced When He Shot Toward Taylor.

Oscar Medaris, who Tuesday evening was adjudged by a jury in the Monroe circuit court to have been insane when he fired the shots on the afternoon of last October 10th which ended the life of Howard Taylor in this city, Wednesday afternoon walked from the Monroe county jail once more a free man and a few hours later arrived in this city with his family who had been at Bloomington since Monday morning, the date of the opening of his trial.

His liberation followed a conference between Judge Mires of the Monroe circuit court and Prosecuting Attorney Simpson B. Lowe, of this city, Wednesday about noon. Mr. Lowe went to Bloomington Monday morning on the Monon train No. 6 at 10:37 for the conference and it was agreed by him and Judge Mires that the defendant's actions during his trial should be taken as a criterion on which to base an opinion relative to his present mental condition and Judge Mires decided therefrom that he is now sane.

Immediately following his release Medaris joined his wife and three children who were awaiting him and they boarded Monon southbound passenger train No. 5 at Bloomington, arriving here at 4:50.—Bedford Democrat.

The letter to Mr. Griffitts follows: "My Dear Mr. Griffitts:

"I want to thank you for the very excellent work you are doing in your county.

"If all the Indiana Chairmen were taking the matter up in the business-like manner you have, the State would be over now.

"I hope you will not let the good work stop as you have the biggest percentage over your quota of any county in our district and I hope you will continue in the lead to the end.

"TODAY, I'M WELL"

Says Jackson Lady, And Thanks Cardui For Her Good Health.

Jackson, Ohio—Mrs. Alice Scirlock, of this place, writes: "About three or four years I was in a very weak state. I suffered with my sides. They were sore and it seemed when I would lay down at nights something seemed like it twisted and pulled in my sides.

I could not rest nights, I was so very nervous. At . . . time I was worse than others, the pain was much more severe. I had sick headaches. My limbs would get numb and this was disagreeable . . .

I doctored myself and tried different doctors . . . I was very frightened of operations and felt I could not go through one, I had gotten down so nervous. I read of Cardui and decided to use it. I took 11 or 12 bottles. Today I'm well and do not have any nervous trouble. I am able to do my own work and feel so strong and well. My sides are all right, and I know Cardui did it. I certainly am stronger than in a long time."

If you suffer from any of the troubles so common to women, try Cardui. Thousands of women give Cardui credit for their good health. NCB-10

CHAPTER XIII.

The Second Wayfarer Receives Two Visitors at Midnight.

The coroner's inquest over the bodies of Room and Paul was held that afternoon at St. Elizabeth. Witnesses from Hart's Tavern were among those to testify. The verdict was "Murder at the hands of parties unknown."

Sprouse did not appear at the Tavern until long after nightfall. The secret agent listened somewhat indifferently to the latter's account of his telephonic experiences. At nine o'clock he yawned prodigiously and announced that he was going to bed, greatly to the surprise of Mr. Barnes, who followed him from the taproom and demanded an explanation.

"People usually go to bed at night, don't they?" said Sprouse patiently. "It is expected, I believe."

"But, my dear man, we are to undertake—"

"I have some cause for believing that one of those chaps in there is from Green Fancy. Go to bed at ten o'clock, my friend, and put out your light. I don't insist on your taking off your clothes, however. I will rap on your door at eleven o'clock. By the way, don't forget to stick your revolver in your pocket."

A few minutes before eleven there came a gentle tapping on Barnes' door. He sprang to his feet and opened it, presenting himself before Sprouse fully dressed and, as the secret agent said later on, "fit to kill."

The night was as black as pitch. Barnes, trusting to the little man's eyes and hanging close upon his coat-tails, followed blindly but gallantly in the tracks of the leader. It seemed to him that they stumbled along parallel to the road for miles before Sprouse came to a halt. "This is the

HOW A YOUNG GIRL SUFFERED

And Was Restored to Health By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—Told By Her Mother.

Brooklyn, N. Y.—"I cannot praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound enough for what it has done for my daughter. She was 15 years of age, very sickly and pale and she had to stay home from school most of the time. She suffered agonies from backache and dizziness and was without appetite. For three months she was under the doctor's care and got no better, always complaining about her back and side aching so I didn't know what to do. I read in the papers about your wonderful medicine so I made up my mind to try it. She has taken five bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and doesn't complain any more with her back and side aching. She has gained in weight and feels much better. I recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to all mothers and daughters."—Mrs. M. FINORE, 516 Marcay Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

A nice little block of sandalwood. I've already got his nice little hammer, so we'll see what we can raise in the way of wireless chit-chat."

Without the slightest hesitation he struck a succession of quick, confident blows upon the block of wood.

"By gad, you are a wonder!"

"Wait till tomorrow before you say that," replied Sprouse, sententiously. "Come along now. Stick to the trail. We've got to land the other one."

Turning sharply to the right, Sprouse guided his companion through the brush for some distance, and once more came to a halt. Again he stole on ahead, and as before the slow, confident, even careless progress of a man ceased as abruptly as that of the comrade who lay helpless in the thicket below.

Barnes laid a firm, detaining hand on the man's shoulder.

"See here, Sprouse," he whispered, "it's all very well for you, knocking men over like this, but just what is your object? What does all this lead up to?"

Sprouse broke in, and there was not the slightest trace of emotion in his whisper.

"Quite right. You ought to know. I suppose you thought I was bringing you up here for a Romeo and Juliet tête-à-tête with the beautiful Miss Cameron—and for nothing else. Well, in a way, you are right. But, first of all, my business is to recover the crown jewels and parchments. I am going into that house and take them away from the man you know as Loeb, if he has them. If he hasn't them my work here is a failure."

"Going into the house?" gasped Barnes. "Why, my God, man, that is impossible. You would be shot down as an ordinary burglar and—the law would justify them for killing you. I must insist—"

"I am not asking you to go into the house, my friend. I shall go alone," said Sprouse coolly.

"On the other hand, I came up here to rescue a helpless—"

"Keep cool! It's the only way. Now listen. She has designated her room and the windows that are hers. She is lying awake up there now, take it from me, hoping that you will come tonight. I shall lead you directly to her window. And then comes the only chance we take—the only instance where we gamble. There will not be a light in her window, but that won't make any difference. This nobby cane I'm carrying is in reality a collapsible fishing rod. First we use it to tap gently on her window ledge or shade or whatever we find. Then you pass-up a little note to her. Here is paper and pencil. Say that you are below her window and—all ready to take her away. Tell her to lower her valuables, some clothes, etc., from the window by means of the rope we'll pass up on the pole. There is a remote possibility that she may have the jewels in her room. For certain reasons they may have permitted her to retain them. If such is the case our work is easy. If they have taken them away from her she'll say so, some way or another—and she will not leave! Now I've had a good look at the front of that house. It is covered with a lattice work and huge vines. I can shin up like a squirrel and go through her room to the—"

"I'll stay by you," replied Barnes sturdily.

Several minutes went by. There was not a sound save the restless patter of rain in the tree tops. At last the faraway thud of footsteps came to the ears of the tense listener. They drew nearer, louder, and once more seemed to be approaching the very spot where he crouched.

Then came the sound of a dull, heavy blow, a hoarse gush, a momentary commotion in the shrubbery, and—again silence. Barnes' blood ran cold. He waited for the next footfall of the passing man. It never came.

A sharp whisper reached his ears. "Come here—quick!"

He floundered through the brush and almost fell prostrate over the kneeling figure of a man.

"Take care! Lend a hand," whispered Sprouse.

Dropping to his knees, Barnes felt for and touched wet, coarse garments, and gasped:

"My God! Have you killed him?"

"Temporarily," said Sprouse, between his teeth. "Here, unwind the rope I've got around my waist. Take the end—here. Got a knife? Cut off a section about three feet long. I'll get the gag in his mouth while you're doing it. Hangmen always carry their own ropes," he concluded, with growing humor. "Got it cut? Well, cut two more sections, same length."

With incredible swiftness the two of them bound the feet, knees and arms of the inert victim.

"I came prepared," said Sprouse, so calmly that Barnes marveled at the iron nerve of the man.

"By heaven, Sprouse, I—I believe he's dead. We—we haven't any right to kill a—"

"Don't be finicky," snapped Sprouse. "It wasn't much of a crack, and it was necessary." Straightening up, with a sigh of satisfaction, he laid his hand on Barnes' shoulder. "We've just got to go through with it now, Barnes. We'll never get another chance. Putting that fellow out of business queers us forever afterward."

He dropped to his knees and began searching over the ground with his hands. "Here it is. You can't see it, of course, so I'll tell you what it is,

The Joy of Motherhood Told

Women Tell How They Made Event One of Great Happiness.

In every part of the land there are women who tell how through the application of Mother's Friend they entirely avoided the suffering usually incident to motherhood. They relate in no uncertain terms how from its use the days were made bright and cheerful and the nights calm and restful, how the crisis was passed without the usual suffering experienced when nature is unaided, and how they preserved their health and strength to devote it to the rearing of their children and to the things life holds for them.

Mother's Friend is a most penetrating remedy, prepared especially for expectant mothers from a formula of a noted physician. Strain upon the ligaments is avoided, and instead of a period of discomfort and constant dread it is a season of calm repose. The hours at the crisis are less, and Mother's Friend enables the mother to retain her natural grace, and her skin is not cracked and does not become hard or disfigured.

Write to the Bradfield Regulator Company, Dept. L, Lamar Building, Atlanta, Georgia, for their Motherhood Book, and obtain a bottle of Mother's Friend from the druggist today.

Five Dollars For a Name

Why We Want a Name

For about fifteen years the Hoosier XXX envelope has been the most popular envelope we have handled. During the war the government made a great many restrictions on the manufacture of paper so that XXX will disappear from envelope box labels and will be replaced by a substance number indicating the weight of paper used in manufacturing envelopes.

For two or three years we have planned to drop the name of Hoosier for these envelopes because it is a jobbers' name, and substitute for the same envelope a name which would be distinctively our own. In other words the same quality envelope will be used but under a new name and will be sent out from the mill under our individual label instead of the jobber's label. We have been unable to decide on a satisfactory name and for that reason have decided to offer $5.00 in cash to the person who will suggest the most appropriate name for this popular business envelope.

Qualities of the Envelope

Every user of the Hoosier XXX will at once recognize their old friend under the new name because the same qualities will be continued which made the Hoosier XXX so popular in Seymour.

GOOD WRITING SURFACE; EVENNESS OF COLOR; UNIFORMITY OF TEXTURE. GOOD GUM FOR SEALING; IN FACT EVERY DESIRABLE QUALITY FOR MEDIUM PRICED ENVELOPE FOR BUSINESS USE.

Rules Governing Contest

1. The name should embody the idea of quality and dignity.

2. The name should appeal to business men as a sensible brand for envelopes.

3. The name may be an entirely new word if otherwise adapted to our purpose.

4. The name should be medium in length, preferably one or two syllables and from five to ten letters, although no strict limit will be placed.

5. Any man, woman or child may enter a suggested name in this contest.

6. Any person may enter as many suggested names as they wish but each proposed name must be in a separate envelope even if suggested by the same person.

7. $5.00 in cash will be paid for the name which is accepted, but the right is reserved to reject any or all names and reopen the contest until a satisfactory name is found.

8. In filing your suggestion write your name and street address on the slip of paper together with the name you suggest. Fold this sheet of paper and place it in a sealed envelope. On the outside of the envelope write only these words: "Name suggested for The Daily Republican envelope contest _____". The award will be made from the outside of the envelopes without knowing who has made the suggestion until the award is made and the envelope opened.

9. Typewritten copy is preferred although not required.

10. All proposals should be left at The Republican office or mailed so as to reach the office by 6 p. m., Wednesday, May 7. Announcements will be made as soon as possible after that time.
